H. W. Warner, Extension Professor of Soils at Iowa State College, has been appointed Agricultural Editor for the Northern Division of the National Fertilizer Association, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., effective October 15, 1925.

The Soil Improvement Committee of the National Fertilizer Association has announced the appointment of John B. Abbott, formerly Extension Professor of Agronomy at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, as Consulting Agronomist for the Northeastern States, with headquarters at Bellows Falls, Vermont, beginning October 1, 1925.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy for 1925 will be held at the Congress Hotel in Chicago, on November 16–17. The general topics of the papers and discussions, and the leaders for each, will be as follows:

Monday Morning, November 16.
General Session. “Extension Methods and Relationships”
—O. S. Fisher.

Monday Afternoon, November 16.
General Session. “Soil Deterioration”—S. B. Haskell.

Monday Evening, November 16.
Annual Dinner and General Session. President’s Annual Address
—C. W. Warburton.

Annual Business Meeting.

Tuesday Morning, November 17.
Crops Section. “Present Status of Corn Improvement”
—F. D. Richey.

Tuesday Afternoon, November 17
Crops Section. “Agronomic Methods Designed to Improve Quality of Crop Products”—H. L. Walster.

Soils Section. “Soil Bacteriology”—A. L. Whiting.

Full details of the program of papers, hotel arrangements, etc., will be issued from the office of the Secretary-Treasurer to each member, early in October.

MEETING OF WESTERN SECTION OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRONOMY

MINUTES

The ninth annual meeting of the Western Section of the American Society of Agronomy was held at the Colorado Agricultural College at Ft. Collins, Colorado, June 18th to 20th, 1925. The meeting was attended by 75 members and visitors.