2. THE UTILIZATION OF LEGUMES IN THE ROTATION

C. In the Northern Great Plains

A. J. OGAARD

The outsider who views from a distance the progress of agriculture in a new section is apt to be laboring under one or both of two delusions. He is apt to make comparisons between the systems and methods of the older section of which he has more intimate knowledge.

1Paper read as a part of the symposium on "The Legume Problem" at the meeting of the Society held in Washington, D. C., November 11, 1924.
2Extension Agronomist, Montana State College, Bozeman, Mont.