REPORT OF THE SECRETARY FOR 1913.

The principal effort of the current year has been directed toward the early publication of volume 4 of the Proceedings, the establishment of the Journal and the promotion of sectional meetings of the Society. The results obtained will be allowed to speak for themselves. The Society has steadily increased in numbers without any special attention given to obtaining new members. The work of the secretary has increased largely over that of last year, wholly apart from his duties as editor of the Journal. It is a pleasure to record here the assistance rendered by Miss L. M. Fissel, as well as the counsel and help of Professor C. V. Piper.
