PURDUE WINS REGIONAL SOILS CONTEST

Purdue University soil judging teams took first and fourth places in the recent Region III Collegiate Soils Contest at the University of Illinois on October 19 and 20. It marked the eighth time in the last 10 contests that a Purdue team carried off top honors.

Purdue Soils Judging Team
Left to right, Coach A. L. Zachary, Ken Griepentrog, Randy Miles, John Williamson and Tom Glendening.

The Purdue teams were coached by Professor Alvin Zachary of the Department of Agronomy.

Members of the first place team were Ken Griepentrog, Randy Miles, and Tom Glendening, all seniors, and junior John Williamson.