New Associate Editor, Northeast Region

Maxine Levin, Beltsville, Maryland, has been appointed by the editorial board to a 3-yr term as Associate Editor, Northeast Region, for Soil Survey Horizons. Ms. Levin replaces Lewis A. Daniels, who was an Associate Editor for the region for 3 yr, before he was transferred to Colorado.

Ms. Levin is Soil Scientist for the East Region, USDA-NRCS. She is a native of Fresno, California. She graduated in 1975 from the University of California-Berkeley with a B.S. in soils and plant nutrition. Ms. Levin began her career at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in 1975 and worked there until 1978. She then worked for the Bureau of Land Management and Farmers Home Administration. In 1980, she started to work for the Soil Conservation Service in California as a soil scientist. She has worked as a field soil scientist and soil correlator/interpretation specialist in California, Maryland, New Jersey, and Utah.
