"Oh, you struck at a little old noisy snake and cut your foot with your auger! That bad old auger!"

SOIL SCIENTIST'S "NOTEBOOK PAGE"

The following page is something new in SOIL SURVEY HORIZONS. It is a notebook page for soil surveyors, a page you can clip out and add to your field notebook. G. W. Olson prepared this first notebook page to give the soil surveyor some guidelines as he maps soils with an eye toward their use for septic tanks. We hope other soil surveyors will provide additional material for notebook pages in future issues. Here's your chance to give others the benefit of your experience in the description or interpretation of soils in the field. -- Ed.
