
HERE AND THERE

Robert Turner, Assistant Principal Correlator, moved to Lincoln, Nebraska in June. He will assist Dr. Aandahl with correlations in the Midwest area.

Loyal Quandt, Soil Scientist at Seward, Nebraska, demonstrated his power soil probe to Howard Busch, Assistant State Conservationist of Indiana. Maybe they, too will try to mechanize some of their soil scientists.

Alex Robertson and Hilding Hokanson of Minnesota were in Lincoln, Nebraska the week of May 17 completing the final correlations of two counties in the "Land of the Sky Blue Waters."

Robert Fox, formerly Report Writing Specialist in the Western states, has transferred to Wisconsin as Assistant State Soil Scientist.

Armin Grunewald, Assistant State Soil Scientist of Indiana, left for a two-year assignment in Nigeria. He will be Project Leader and Soil Scientist. In his party are Milton Saffry of Topeka, Kansas as Agronomist, Ellis Baker of Santa Rosa, California as Engineer, and William Shelton of Herkimer, New York as Soil Conservationist.

Frasier Stephens, Soil Scientist in Wyoming, and Arvad Cline, Soil Correlator, worked with Dr. Aandahl to make the final correlation of southern Goshen County. This county joins Scottsbluff County in
