served to keep the mappers sharpened up and provide conversation at the evening dinner table. Some choice examples perhaps of interest were, "I've farmed this land for over 40 years, so what are you going to tell me I don't already know"; "You mean to tell me you walked all the way over here to tell me that's what you are doing?"; "Why don't you go over there and map where they need septic tanks?"; "Now, that's a hell of a thing for a grown man to be doin'!"
