New Logos Launched for Certified Professional Soil Scientists and Classifiers—Stamps and Embossers Now Available

Certified Professional Soil Scientists and Certified Professional Soil Classifiers have new logos. New stamps and embossers are now available for purchase for certified soils professionals.

It is always best, and at times required, that consultants sign and stamp their work as a professional. The information for ordering is provided below. Once an order is placed with the company they will verify with SSSA that the certification is up to date to fill the request.

Stamps and embossers are to be ordered through Fox Valley Stamp. They can be personalized with your name & certification number.
